UNITED STATES MAY WITHDRAW.

Doesn't Like Situation in China-Sincerity of Protestation of Powers Doubted-Dangers Impending.

New York, Nov. 21 .- According to the brings to the state department further highest official authority, says a Herald special from Washington, events are hurrying the United States to a point where, in the interests of humanity and a satisfactory settlement of the Chinese question, it must withdraw from the concert of nations.

It is contended by the administration that it is not hasty in adopting such a course. Fair warning will be given to the powers and if they still persist in a policy calculated to drive China to desperation the only thing left for the administration would be to enter into independent negotiations with the imperial government. Such a course would undoubtedly be followed by Russia and France but the action of Germany and Japan and Great Britain is problematic because of their recent agreement. The pessimistic view of the agreement. The pessions of the situation which exists in official circles followed the receipt of information by the state department as to the attitude of Germany and Great Britain in connection with the punishment of the Boxer leaders.

SINCERITY OF POWERS DOUBTED.

Government officials, says a Times dispatch from Washington, no lorger make any attempt to conceal their disbelief in the sincerity of the protestations made by the powers that they do not contemplate the partition of China. The speech of Count von Bue-low illustrates well the attitude of the powers. He said in the course of it:
"It is impossible to forsee further developments. We shall not allow ourselves to be led beyond these demands, except by the interests of civilization and especially by the interests of Ger-These words are paraphrased as follows by an administration official:

"This is all we want at present. We shall not make any further demands unless we feel like it."

Although Count von Buelow asserted that the demands he reported had been made by "unanimous agreement," it is not believed that the United States representative has assented to them. Mr. Conger has reported from time to time the various propositions under consideration, but he has not yet indicated that anything in the nature of the agreement has been reached upon agreement has been reached upon which the powers might act and which is to serve as a basis of negotiation with the Chinese authorities.

The United States has not yet reached the point of setting a figure beyond which demands would be regarded as excessive. It is actively at work try-ing to reach such a figure. The United States desires to make the indemnity the very utmost that China can pay, but no more. The American feeling is that China has sinned so grievously that she must suffer a tremendous pen-alty. One of the officers of the ad-ministration lately, in describing the American attitude, recalled Bismarck's declaration after the Franco-German war, that he would "bleed France pale." But, he added, "Bismarck stopped there. He did not try to kill her. He demanded five billion francs. But he did not demand fifty billion

DIFFERENCE OF ATTITUDES.

That is the difference between the attitude of America and that of the European powers. The administration according to a dispatch from Washington to the Journal of Commerce, is endeavoing to secure important modifideavoring to secure important modifi-cations in several of the propositions which have the support of some of the ministers at Pekin, and others which have been suggested there. Minister Conger has been instructed to oppose the provision suggested by the protocol that an article be inserted binding the Chinese government to the revision of the existing treaties of commerce. The objection of the United States is based upon the fact that such a revis-ion would mean separate terms to each power, special concessions to those which intrigued most successfully at the Chinese court, and probable secrecy regarding some of the concessions.

WANTS NO SPECIAL PRIVILEGES. The United States desires nothing in the way of general commercial privi-leges which is not granted to every oth-er power. It is opposed to the separate revision of the treaties, however, not only upon the direct ground of American interest in the negatiations, but because of the complications which would be likely to follow such ar-rangements. It is the opinion of some of the leading officials of the state department that such an arrangement would only open the way for keeping the Chinese question constantly in an acute state and would throw a serious The great danger hangs about the pall of anxiety over the peace and comquestion of indemnity. Her Policy in Accord With That of United States-How to Solve the Problem.

New York, Nov. 21.-Count Cassini, Russian ambassador to the United States, is quoted in a Washington dispatch to the World as saying in an interview:

"From the outset of the Chinese trouble Russia has been actuated by the single purpose to act in concert with the other powers to preserve the integrity of China.

"In pursuance of his policy for preserving international peace the emperor adopted an attitude, when the Chinese trouble began, calculated to maintain harmony and to insure the preservation of the Chinese empire. This attitude is in harmony with Russia's interest.

"Russia is a big state. Her internal affairs require constant and judicious attention. The great enterprises she has under way demand unremitting care. She wants no addition to her territory and the only contingency which would force her to acquire it would be in the event that other powers took steps to partition China.

Czar's Illness Takes Favo rable Turn

St. Petersburg, Nov. 20.-A medical practitioner of high standing in this ity who is not connected with the state service, after analyzing the bulletins from Lividia, told the correspondent of the Associated Press that the illness of the czar had taken an unusually favorable course. "Apparently." he said, "there is more anxiety abroad than there is in Russia. This may be due largely to the statistics of typhoid mortality in this country. But these are misleading. Discussing the general subject of re-apportionment, Mr. Hopkins said: "The committee on census will meet during the first week of the session to frame a bill providing for reapportion-ment. That seems to be the ratio that is in general favor among members of the committee. This proposition would entail an increased membership of from fifteen to twenty members.

RAID BY BANK ROBBERS. They Hold Citizens at Bay but Finally Have to Flee.

Delaware, O., Nov. 20 .- A dozen bank robbers all masked, made a desperate attempt before daylight today to secure the contents of the money vault of Sperry & Warnsteff's deposit bank at Ashley, ten miles north of here. CREAT OVATION TO PAUL KRUCER

Marseilles Will Receive Him as a Mighty Hero.

THE CITY IN GALA ARRAY.

Strong Military Precautions Taken-British Consulate Guarded-Welcome Not an Official One.

Marseilles, Nov. 21.-Eight o'clock is the time announced for Mr. Kruger's landing, but the Gelderland has not yet been sighted. A drenching downpour of rain prevailed throughout the entire night. A few policemen were on duty, but no crowd was visible along the route of the procession.

Former President Kruger will probably land here Thursday instead of omorrow. Bad weather is reported in the Mediterranean, and the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, on which he is a passenger, may hug the coast of the Gulf of Genoa in preference to heading direct for Marseilles, so as to avoid the cross seas. She will thus reach this port tomorrow evening instead of to-

Every preparation, however, has been made for Mr. Kruger's possible landing tomorrow morning. The police and military are held in readiness and the military are held in readiness and the Boer reception committee has not made any change in the arrangements for the reception at the dock. Workmen have been busy erecting flagstaffs along the waterside at La Joliette, and at the outer dock, where the steam launch with Mr. Kruger on board will land. It is certain that Mr. Kruger's arrival will be the occasion for a great required demonstration along the route.

It is equally certain that the formal pro-ceedings will not be invested with the importance which the occasion war-rants, owing to the abstention from them of the prefect mayor and other functionaries in their official capacity.

A surprise came today in the shape of the arrival here of Eloff, Mr. Kruger's private secretary, who left the Gelderland at Port Said and came ahead on a French steamer. Eloff left Mr. Kruger in perfect health and spirits. The president occupies three cabins situated in the stern of the Gelderland. His dining room is decorated with the portraits of the Dutch royal family, a picture of Queen Wilhelmina in the place of honor.

family, a picture of Queen Wilhelmina in the place of honor.

The Boer delegates, Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Grobler, who have also arrived here, expressed to the representative of the Associated Press their earnest wish to have the American people with them in their efforts to secure a termination of the war. They said they knew Mr. Kruger also appreciated American sympathy and hoped it would lead to practical favors to the cause of his country. The delegates, however, were unable to say exactly what Mr. Kruger would decide to do what Mr. Kruger would decide to do after landing in France.

There is much talk in Marseilles to the effect that a counter demonstration will occur or that anti-English outcries may be raised, which would result in street disorders. But neither the pre-fect nor the American consulate officials attach the slightest importance

A pro-Boer committee has issued an appeal, copies of which were posted this afternoon, calling on the people to cheer for Mr. Kruger and the but to refrain from any demonstration "The crowd in the streets to witness the arrival of Mr. Kruger," says the prefect of the department today, "will probably exceed 100,000, which is a fifth of the population of Marseilles. Never-theless no disorder, in my opinion, will occur. The sympathies of the inhab-itants are undoubtedly with the Boers, and Mr. Kruger will receive a rousing reception, but except for a few isolated ries against England, which it will be promptly repressed if the peace-ful character of the demonstration seems to be in any way jeopardized, we expect nothing that would offend the English. We live here on the best terms with the English colony and wish to remain so. Mr. Kruger will meet with such an official reception as is given to a chief of a state when they travel incognito

M. Flassiers, the mayor of Marseilles, expressed himself in similar terms, but this optimism is not shared entirely by some members of the English colony, who have discerned paid agents of the Anglophobe cause among some of the recent arrivals. The prefect, however, is known to be an energetic man. He has taken strong military precautions, and the garrison, nembering about 6,000 men, will be held in readiness, but out of sight, at the infantry barracks, in close proximity to the British consulate, where no un-

The Boer delegates fully appreciate the disadvantage to their cause lying in the fact that the French welcome is chiefly engineered by the anti-minis-terial party, thus detracting immensely from its political importance.

Messrs, Fischer and Wessels, who were interviewed by the correspondent of the Associated Press this afternoon, expressed regret at the partisan char-acter which the demonstration is as-suming. They compared it with their reception in the United States by the Democrats, which, they declared, had opposed the Republicans to them.

Both insisted, however, that the result of the American elections have in
